

Gawler Ranges & Eyre Peninsula

The Gawler Ranges region boasts magnificent volcanic rock formations, providing a landscape as rich in beauty as it is in iron ore deposits.

Bushwalks in such dramatic settings contrast the calm and atmospheric beauty of camping on the edge of Lake Gairdner - a perfect start to your journey around the Eyre Peninsular.

Along secluded beaches and over windswept cliffs, treading where early seafaring explorers once stood, you'll lap up the natural aura of this stunning coastline.

GAWLER RANGES TOUR: 11 Day Itinerary (Adelaide return)

- Day 1 Depart Adelaide, travelling up National Highway 1 via Port Augusta and Iron Knob, then west into the Gawler Ranges to camp on the edge of Lake Gairdner.
- Day 2 A morning walk around the edge of Lake Gairdner before moving camp into the Gawler Ranges National Park for 3 nights.
- Day 3 A day walk in the Gawler Ranges exploring the magnificent features of this ancient landscape formed 1500 million years ago.
- Day 4 A day drive taking in the National Park, with a climb up Scrubby Peak before lunch.
- Day 5 Crossing the Eyre Highway our route takes us to the coast at Venus Bay, then south east to Coffin Bay National Park for a three night camp.
- Day 6 & 7 We drive into Coffin Bay National Park and explore the scenic coastline and beautiful beaches on foot and by road.
- Day 8 To Port Lincoln and a visit to the scenic Whalers Way before heading down into the Lincoln National Park for a two night camp. An afternoon walk.
- Day 9 A day walk in Lincoln National Park.
- Day 10 We head into Port Lincoln and spend the morning looking around the township before heading further north to a camp in the Cowell Caravan Park.
- Day 11 Return to Adelaide via Melrose & Laura, arriving in Adelaide at approximately 5pm.

